They Have Smart Young Ones

IN THE WEST.

For wit and reverence the Western offspring takes high honors, and sets an example for the platform and pulpit. A three-year old Duluthian, who had been forbidden to climb on the table, broke the maternal command, and after getting tired finally called, "Here I is, mamma; better tum and det me." Being told that he would have to remain on his forbidden perch, he studied the matter over a minute, and then hanging his feet the Chamber of Commerce into whose over proceeded to jump, exclaiming, "here I doze, mamma; Lord help me." Certainly we have smart young ones in Wheeling and hands this matter was committed on the lity and county, yesterday handed to Mr. Lynch a statement of the matters concerning which he desired to matter sconcerning which he desired to ha informed. to the submission by these gentle-men to the committee of a liberal and acceptable proposition for the construc-tion of the bridge.

The question has been raised and dis-cussed with general interest, as to what connections can be eccured for the East if the bridge is built. As stated when Mr. Lynch was here before, one of the leading coke manufacturers of the Connelsville district has expressed his willingness to subscribe liberally and to use his influence to induce other coke manufacturers to therribe liberally and to use his fidnence induce other coke manufacturers to theribe liberally to the stock of a bridge mapany here on condition that a road ere secured from the coke region to /heeling and via Wheeling to the West, that the Cennelsville coke mon could y this route secure an outlet to the marsts of the West.

In view of this feeling on the part of the coke operators and of the great desirability of securing a new read to the Connelsville district, the manufacturers of this city were invited to confer with Mr. Lynch He desired to have the local committee sound them as to what interest they would show in a coke railroad project. Ask how to profit by the foilies of others. Ask any ordinary man to appraise the estate of a deceased person, and he will say, "The question is not so much what it is worth as what it will bring at forged sale." Everybody knows that there is a popular rejudice against buying at auction, a popular falacy on the subject, and that it is the Butlers and Astors, and other bold men of lesser note who get the benefit of it. We are evidently at the beginning of a boom in Wheeling. Everybody knows that the times are improving here. It is strong in that class from which we can supply the sedate, good common sense people who want not display, but excellent quality goods, and have but a moderate sum to expend therefor. It bristles with such beautiful patterns and styles as will suit the gentry who desire to be up in the tashion, but never reach the extreme, and who are averse to paying the absurdly extravagant price charged by high priced custom tailors. In short it is a stock which will fill a customer's heart with delight and claim his appreciative attention.

FALL AND WINTER OVERCOATS

A display simply enormous. A mammoth stock unparalleled for variety and extent and unequalled in value. An assort-ment which includes every fashionable color, fashionable fabric, fashionable style. Overcoats for stout men, little men, short men, long men. Nothing will compare with them in town and you'll say so when you see them. They'll fit your thoughts as nicely as your shoulders; do you the service of honest admiration, not only when warm, but when thrown over your arm. We can save you big money.
